Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-21 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The main reason for allowance of claims 1-21 are based on the inclusion of:
 - a. In Claim 1, a data acquisition circuit coupled to said strain gauge and receiving said strain signal, said data acquisition circuit transmitting a data signal and having a span circuit and a zero circuit; and force applied by said adjustable clamp to said workpiece object calibrated for a zero point and a load point.
 - b. In Claim 11, a data acquisition circuit having a span circuit and a zero circuit and including an amplifier and a voltage reference incorporated into a monolithic chip, said amplifier coupled to said voltage reference source via said strain gauge, said data acquisition circuit coupled to said strain gauge and receiving said strain signal, said amplifier transmitting a data signal; said span circuit being a first potentiometer; said zero circuit being a second potentiometer; and a wiper of said zero circuit coupled to said strain signal, said zero circuit affecting output of said strain signal.
 - c. In Claim 12, a data acquisition circuit having an amplifier coupled to a voltage reference source across said strain gauge, said data acquisition circuit receiving said strain signal, said data acquisition circuit transmitting a data signal; determining the force applied by said adjustable clamp to said workpiece object.

These limitations in combination with other claimed subject matter renders this case allowable.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
